New for all HUGA designer doors: white surface finish

Their new white paint finish is HUGA's latest innovation – a perfectly smooth overall surface finish produced by a single dip. HUGA's white paint finish incorporates an attractive appearance and touch with a high degree of functionality. This combination makes HUGA white paint finish a favourite for exquisite interior decors. Developed in-house. Various layers of surface material and mouldings are combined in a series of successive steps. The result is impressive. There is no limit to what white can do. HUGA white paint finish refines all styles of designer door. Selected examples can be seen on the following pages.

Whether smooth or with a lively textured appearance, HUGA's white paint finish refines all the surfaces of their new wave series designer doors. The advantages of the white paint from a single dip are particularly obvious where the plane rails and stiles meet the finely rippled wave décor. Even after long-term daily usage, the edges show no real signs of wear and tear. Smooth areas shimmer and even finetextures retain their distinctive character. All wave 1 designer doors can be supplied with ATLANTA glazing. wave & HUGA white paint finish: diverse in appearance – outstanding in quality.

Door frames

HUGA Moulded Frames

When looking at a door it is not just the door leaf which is important, but the general impression given by the door, the frame and their coherence to the wall. Only a fully coordinated frame can set the door off perfectly, and also act as a congruous link to the wall.

Moulded frame 60mm/80mm

The tried and trusted 60mm – the magic 80mm for renovations. In addition to their popular 60mm moulded frame, HUGA is now offering an 80mm version. This new frame covers the wall more substantially and is ideal for renovation purposes. If wallpaper edges have been damaged for instance, the 80mm frame covers up the ugly edges simply and neatly.

Elipse moulded frame

The ideal combination of Italian flair and well-conceived functionality. The 70mm convex surface surrounds the door with a really balanced form of lines and enhances the interplay of door, frame and wall. The Elipse door frame does not simply surround the door, it acts as a visual mediator, at the same time supporting the function of the door perfectly.

Provile moulded frame

Bold design can give a lift to both the apartment and the workplace. HUGA's new Provile frame is a trend-setter which is not content to simply lurk in the background, but projects itself as an equal partner to the door. This mutual cooperation of door leaf and eye-catching rippled frame is setting charming new directions for everyday home life and the sophisticated working environment.

FORMA edge

FORMA edge HUGA white paint finish

The HUGA white paint finish door combines both beauty of form and a timelessly-elegant appearance. Using the latest postforming technology HUGA is setting new trends down to the smallest detail. The edges of the HUGA white paint finish door are rounded as if from a single dip. Matching frame – DURAT exclusive white paint décor frame. The jambs of the exclusive HUGA moulded frame are also “postformed”. The rounded architraves on the frames and the white postformed doors are perfectly matched. The perfect rounded element for residential and commercial use.

Flawless edges in particular show up the quality of HUGA's white paint finish. The signum designer door opens a new and extremely varied world of form. Fine V-grooves give the door leaf its own individual design – either selected from HUGA's wide range or custom-made. Virtually anything is possible. Here too, the HUGA white paint finish shows that it has more to offer from a visual, touch and functional point of view. The finish completed in a single step guarantees an absolutely uniform surface right down to the grooved edges, including all functional characteristics. This is why signum designs can offer even more options even when special features are required. signum and HUGA white paint finish: diverse in appearance – distinctive in quality.

Glass, plenty of light & HUGA white paint finish – the modern but timeless ambience for a feeling of well-being. sueno combines rails and stiles with glazing in two different styles: sueno 1 with its popular, straight-cut friezes. sueno 2 with the innovative rippled friezes. The HUGA white paint surface finish combines frieze and glazing while retaining the full functionality and appearance of the door. The absolutely uniform finish of the friezes goes perfectly with the large areas of glass, bringing light and a feeling of space into any doorway. sueno and HUGA white paint finish: versatile in use – exceptional in quality.
